

Greetings Community of Ridgway and Fans of the Ridgway Concert Series:

It is with great sadness that we make the difficult decision to postpone this year's Ridgway Concert Series. We were so excited to share with you another lineup of stellar musicians (which will remain top secret as we hope to rebook them for 2021!), but under the current conditions regarding COVID-19, and following guidance from the county and state, it is our top priority to keep our community and visitors safe.

For 13 years, we have celebrated Ridgway with live music, dancing, picnicking and being together every Thursday evening in July. Because we know how important this event is to the Town, it is our hope to put something special (and musical!) together when circumstances allow in lieu of this beloved summer event.

Thank you for your support and understanding. We cannot wait to be together again in Hartwell Park.

Yours in Music,

The Town of Ridgway & Pickin' Productions
