Smart Irrigation Month

Ridgway, CO – While Voluntary Water Restrictions remain in effect here in Ridgway, the U.S. Drought Portal, available at www.drought.gov, shows that Ouray County is not currently experiencing a significant level of drought. Even in light of that, the Ridgway Town Council would like to encourage everyone to pursue smart watering practices.

Nearly 50% of residential water use occurs outside your home. The good news is, it's easy to save water outdoors. To check out some pro tips on the best ways to conserve water while giving your landscape the right amount of water, click HERE.
